

How to make the easiest zine EVER

© 2009 Su Mwamba/
TangleCrafts

\* You can use any rectangle of paper - your finished mini-zine will be  $1/8^{\text{th}}$  the original paper size.

* Use paper that is already printed on one side (e.g. junkmail) - you can hide the printing by folding it to the inside.

1. Fold paper into 8ths, then unfold.

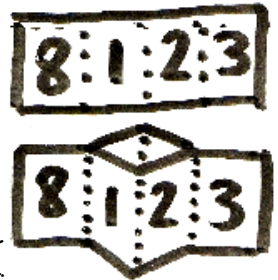

2. Fold in half, then cut or tear along centre crease, so that there is a slit 2 'pages' wide in the centre of your unfolded page.

3. Unfold page again, then re-fold lengthways.

4. Holding either end of the lengthways crease, push inwards, so that the slit in the centre opens up into a diamond shape.

5. Push inwards until your 'pages' meet in the centre.

6. Fold pages around so that 8 is on the back, and 1 is on the front.

If you write a zine, make sure the text on pages 4 - 7 is upside-down!

